INTRODUCTION

The 2nd Organisation for Economic Co-Operation and Development (OECD) Meeting of Mining Regions and Cities (OECD Meeting). The prestigious, invitation-only OECD Meeting will be held in Darwin from 21 to 22 November 2018.

Discussions at the event will focus around four key themes:

- productivity and diversifications
- quality of life and well-being
- new models of partnership between the private sector and local communities
- subnational governance and fiscal arrangements.

There will also be a special focus on energy and mineral industries, regional development in South East Asia and Innovative partnerships between Indigenous communities and industry.

Hosting this meeting places the Territory at the forefront of global conversations regarding cutting edge approaches in the energy and mining industries with guaranteed exposure to approximately 300 delegates from OECD member nations. It provides a significant opportunity to showcase Territory capability, innovation and opportunity. And with a truly global reach, opens up important linkages for our local Territory businesses to build their connections and grow their footprint both within Australia and the world.

We already have strong registrations from across our OECD member countries from Latin America, to South East Asia and beyond. Ministers from Thailand and Indonesia, along with Governor's from Alaska, Canada and the Philippines are confirmed to travel to Darwin.
